A Writer and Director from Vancouver BC, my stories explore how characters navigate and react to the landscapes around them; both industrial, and natural. Having completed a Bachelor's Degree In Motion Picture Arts at Capilano University, and more recently the E20 Writers Program at Reelworld Screen Institute, I am passionate about continuing my education in film both as an art, and an important cultural tool in our modern world. Genres I love include drama, thriller, magical realism, and horror.
